NICHOLAS CLEARY - PROFILE

Nicholas Cleary is an auctioneer renowned for his energy, enthusiasm and expertise. A natural and passionate communicator, Nick has an uncanny ability to read a crowd, create rapport with individuals, and hold them riveted for an entire auction session.

Nick's results-driven style combines confidence, leadership, intuition, and innovative strategies and has seen him close hundreds of sales.

"I see my role as holding the crowd and keeping them engaged for the duration, which can take an hour. I use respect and good crowd communication, not jokes or tricks. It is rare that anyone ever walks away."

Nick sees his success as being the working relationship between himself and the Agent.

"We each have a role in order to achieve the best possible outcome for the vendor. My mission is to sell each property and sell it at the highest possible price."

Nick's auctions are exciting and satisfying experiences for all involved. His likeable and commanding performances have also been used in auctioneering events for charities.

"Your ability to hold the excitement in an auction is truly second to none."
